INSOLVENCY

“ If financial pressure starts to hurt, it’s important to act early. Delay can be costly and we recognise that crucial executive decisions can’t wait.

We have over 25 years’ experience in managing debt problems and providing insolvency and restructuring advice for individuals, partnerships and companies. As well as working within formal insolvency proceedings, we offer assistance before it gets that far, often nursing a business back to health.

If it transpires that a business cannot be saved, in whole or in part, we will set out the options available in a clear and concise manner. We never forget that business failure tends to be a stressful experience. Proactive and constructive advice from us, coupled with a timescale for action, will help you deal with a challenging time.”
